Appropriations -- The House passed the Treasury-Post Office Department appropriation bill for fiscal 1958 on Feb. 20. No other fiscal 1958 appropriations bills have been reported yet.

COPYRIGHT 1957, CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATION

The Senate Feb. 18 passed by voice vote, and sent to conference, an amended deficiency appropriation bill (HR 4249) providing $351,026,500 in supplemental funds for fiscal 1957. The total was $16 million more than the House voted Feb. 5. (Weekly Report, p. 192)

The Senate upheld, by a 64-17 roll-call vote, a revised committee amendment providing $30 million to continue the government subsidy program for strategic minerals through Dec. 31, 1958. (For voting, see chart p. 220)

It rejected, by a 32-49 roll-call vote, an amendment to change from mandatory to permissive an authorization of Federal aid in procurement of cottonseed products for basic herds of range livestock in disaster areas.

BACKGROUND -- HR 4249 was reported (S Rept 65) by the Senate Appropriations Committee Feb. 14.

PROVISIONS -- The major appropriations in HR 4249, as passed by the Senate:

Public assistance grants to the states	$275,000,000
Small Business Administration business loans	45,000,000
Strategic minerals acquisition	30,000,000

AMENDMENTS ACCEPTED

Lyndon B. Johnson (D Texas) -- Revise committee amendment adding cottonseed products to drought aid program to limit such assistance to Aug. 1, 1957; Feb. 18. Voice vote.

John A. Carroll (D Colo.) -- Revise committee amendment on payments to farmers for wind erosion control, making it retroactive to Sept. 30, 1956; Feb. 18. Voice.

Carl Hayden (D Ariz.) -- Reword committee amendment providing $30 million for strategic minerals purchase program; Feb. 18. Roll-call vote, 64-17.

AMENDMENT REJECTED

William F. Knowland (R Calif.) -- Use permissive, instead of mandatory language in authorizing procurement of cottonseed feed; Feb. 18. Roll call, 32-49.

DEBATE -- Feb. 18 -- Controversy over the cottonseed provision centered on the over-all effect of giving feed advantages to any one area.

TREASURY-POST OFFICE FUNDS

The House Feb. 20 passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate, without amendment, a bill (HR 4897) providing $3,884,927,000 in fiscal 1958 appropriations for the Treasury and Post Office Departments and the Tax Court of the United States. The House rejected an attempt to increase funds for Post Office operations by $29 million. The bill would provide $691,467,000 for the Treasury, $3,192,000,000 for the Post Office and $1,460,000 for the Tax Court.

BACKGROUND -- The House Appropriations Committee Feb. 15 reported HR 4897 (H Rept 68). It recommended $80,364,000 less than President Eisenhower requested, cutting $22,364,000 from estimates for the Treasury and $58 million from the Post Office.

AMENDMENT REJECTED

Gordon Canfield (R N.J.) -- Increase appropriations for operations of the Post Office Department by $29 million; Feb. 20. Teller vote, 124-177.

DEBATE -- Feb. 19 -- Postal employees' protests to their Congressmen over proposed cuts in Post Office monies caused controversy.

Canfield -- The cuts would cause the Post Office to restrict Saturday mail deliveries, reduce deliveries in business sections and eliminate sale of money orders and postal savings.

MIDDLE EAST

The Senate Feb. 19 opened debate on President Eisenhower's Mideast resolution (S J Res 19 -- S Rept 70), reported jointly Feb. 14 by the Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees. (Weekly Report, p. 199, 126)

The major change by the Senate Committees was elimination of the word "authorized" in reference to use of armed forces, and substitution of a statement that the United States "is prepared" to use such forces if the President deemed it necessary. The report said a "clear statement of policy...is preferable to a blanket authorization" and was "actually stronger."

DEBATE -- Feb. 19 -- Lyndon B. Johnson (D Texas) -- The amended version showed "the true meaning of responsible cooperation in the field of foreign policy."

Theodore Francis Green (D R.I.) -- The joint committee found "evidence that the Administration was too enamored of its own legislative draftsmanship."

H. Alexander Smith (R N.J.) -- Called for an end to "partisan political blocking" of foreign policy and "full and unconditional support" of the President.

Feb. 20 -- Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D N.C.) -- Would vote against S J Res 19 because he could not "reconcile it with a proper regard for the resources of the American taxpayers and the lives of American boys."

Wayne Morse (D Ore.) -- Wanted the President to notify Congress before using troops in the Middle East.

RELATED DEVELOPMENTS -- Feb. 11 -- Secretary of State John Foster Dulles handed Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban a memorandum calling on Israel to withdraw her troops from the Gaza Strip and the area around the Gulf of Aqaba. The U.S. would use her best efforts, the memorandum said, to have United Nations emergency forces moved into the disputed areas and to help Israel win the right of "free and innocent passage" for her vessels through Gulf waters. An Israeli reply Feb. 15 said the proposal could not be accepted as it stood.

Feb. 17 -- President Eisenhower issued a statement declaring Israel now had "the maximum assurance that it can reasonably expect at this juncture, or that can be reconciled with fairness to others." He said Israel was defying "the overwhelming judgment of the world community" by failing to withdraw her troops. In a Feb. 20 address he said UN pressure was needed for Israeli compliance, promised "vigorous" U.S. work on her problems.

CQ Senate Votes 3 through 4.

(No Congressional Record Roll-Call Vote Numbers.)

One Amendment to Deficiency Appropriation Bill Rejected, $30 Million Provided for Strategic Minerals Purchase Plan

3. HR 4249. Deficiency appropriation for fiscal 1957, providing $351 million for various agencies. Knowland (R Calif.) amendment to make permissive, instead of mandatory, Federal aid in procurement of cottonseed products for range livestock in drought-stricken areas. Rejected, 32-49 (D 1-40; R 31-9), Feb. 18, 1957. The President did not take a stand on the vote. (See story, p. 219)

4. HR 4249. Deficiency appropriation. Hayden (D Ariz.) amendment providing $30 million for strategic minerals purchase program. Agreed to, 64-17 (D 39-2; R 25-15), Feb. 18, 1957. A "yea" vote was a vote supporting the President's position. (See story, p. 219)

Committee Roundup

CIVIL RIGHTS

COMMITTEE -- Senate Judiciary, Constitutional Rights Subcommittee.

BEGAN HEARINGS -- On civil rights legislation. (Weekly Report, p. 198)

TESTIMONY -- Feb. 14 -- Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. said the Administration's civil rights program would combat a current "mass disenfranchisement of Negroes." Sen. Sam J. Ervin (D N.C.) said portions of the program would, in effect, give Federal judges the right to decide the qualifications of citizens to vote.

Feb. 15 -- Sen. John C. Stennis (D Miss.) called the proposed civil rights measures "unsound and unwise." He said "nobody else... (but) the patient leaders of both groups in the South must solve" the civil rights problem. Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D Ill.) urged passage of the Administration bill. He said he was "particularly impressed" by powers which would enable the Attorney General to enforce voting rights.

Feb. 16 -- Brownell was questioned about the Administration program by Ervin and other Subcommittee members. In reply to a question by Ervin, Brownell said that under the proposed legislation the Federal Government could bring civil suits in behalf of an individual's civil rights without the person's consent, or even over his objections.

Feb. 19 -- Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said Negroes had been patient "in the face of extreme provocation," but he could not predict their mood if their hope of civil rights legislation was destroyed. "What they are asking of this Congress, and what sincere men of both parties are seeking to give them," he said, "is a minimum safeguard of the constitutional rights which have been so long denied them."

Feb. 20 -- Georgia Attorney General Eugene Cook in a prepared statement said the Administration civil rights bill would "inevitably destroy the states" and result in creation of "a Federal gestapo."

FEED GRAINS

COMMITTEE -- House Agriculture.

ACTION -- Feb. 19, by a reported 17-15 vote, ordered reported a bill (HR 4901) to establish a 43.2 million acre national corn allotment for 1957, set up a $300 million soil bank acreage reserve program for 1957 crops of small feed grains and increase by $250 million the 1957 authorization for acreage reserve compensation. Under a two-pronged feed grain program, producers of six basic farm commodities would be permitted to put feed grain acreage equal to 18 percent of their acreage allotment for the basic crop into the acreage reserve. Payments would range from $10 to $50 an acre. Or feed grain producers could reduce their feed grain acreage by at least 15 percent and any portion of the remainder could be put in the acreage reserve with payments of $15 an acre. The bill was a Democratic substitute for a one-year program proposed by the Administration. (Weekly Report, p. 198)

WITNESS IMMUNITY

COMMITTEE -- Senate Judiciary.

ACTION -- Feb. 18, by a 12-0 vote, agreed to ask the Federal courts to order Harold Glasser, a former Treasury employee, and three witnesses from Honolulu to testify about Communism under grant of immunity from prosecution. The action had been requested by the Committee's Internal Security Subcommittee as a test of the immunity law enacted by Congress in 1954. (1954 Almanac, p. 333) The Subcommittee said Glasser, Wilfred M. Oka, Myer C. Symonds and Robert McElrath had invoked the Fifth Amendment in prior questioning, declining to answer questions lest their answers tend to incriminate them.

OIL PRICES

COMMITTEE -- Senate Judiciary, Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee, and Senate Interior and Insular Affairs, Public Lands Subcommittee, sitting jointly.

CONTINUED HEARINGS -- On the effect of the emergency oil program for Europe on oil prices in the United States. (Weekly Report, p. 199)

TESTIMONY -- Feb. 19 -- Chairman Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D Wyo.) said the recent increase in domestic crude oil prices would boost earnings of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and its affiliates by $100 million.

M.J. Rathbone, president of Standard Oil of New Jersey, said a price increase was "long overdue" and "would have happened in 1957 completely irrespective of the Suez crisis." Rathbone said that if the price of oil "is not sufficient to encourage continued adequate exploration and development, America's economic health and security can be hurt."

Feb. 20 -- Victor R. Hansen, chief of the Justice Department's Antitrust Division, said the companies operating the oil lift would be prosecuted if the rise in oil and gasoline prices resulted from collusion or other violation of antitrust laws. Hansen said the Justice Department has made a "voluntary agreement" with the oil companies which could be terminated "at the first real showing that the participants are misusing the immunities."

RELATED DEVELOPMENTS -- Feb. 15 -- Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission told the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee he saw no oil crisis resulting from the closing of the Suez Canal. Thompson said there was a "more than adequate" supply of oil in the United States. He said the U.S. oil pipeline system was overburdened and needed reappraisal.

Feb. 18 -- Frank M. Porter, president of the American Petroleum Institute, said "facts fairly presented" would "clearly refute the irresponsible charge that the oil industry is 'gouging' the consumer."

Feb. 20 -- Rathbone told the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee that Standard Oil of New Jersey estimated its 1957 net earnings at $900 million -- $100 million more than in 1956.

MILITARY RESERVE PROGRAM

COMMITTEE -- House Armed Services, Subcommittee No. 1.

CONTINUED HEARINGS -- On the military reserve program. (Weekly Report, p. 197)

TESTIMONY -- Feb. 18 -- Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Assn., said the Army requirement that all National Guard recruits take six months of basic training would impose a "kiss of death" on the training program of the Guard. Walsh said the 400,000-man Army Guard would lose 50,000 men a year and be driven down "the road to extinction." He proposed adoption of an 11-week basic training requirement.

Feb. 19 -- Maj. Gen. Roy A. Green, commanding general of California's 49th National Guard Division, said the six months active duty requirement "won't kill the Guard, it will make the Guard." Green said he had already used the six-month requirement successfully in his division. Green said during World War II he lost 2,200 men in the battle of Okinawa "because they were not trained.... It was murder."

Maj. Gen. John W. Guerard, retired artillery commander of the California division, said he would like to see a mandatory training period of more than six months. "The day is gone when any lunkhead could have a rifle shoved in his hand and be ready to follow somebody who waved a saber and yelled 'charge'," he said. "The infantryman today is a specialist of the highest order."

RELATED DEVELOPMENT -- Feb. 19 -- Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Texas) said the "effectiveness and strength" of the National Guard were "threatened" by the Defense Department's six-month training order.

VETERANS' LEGISLATION

COMMITTEE -- House Veterans' Affairs.

ACTION -- Feb. 18 -- Reported a bill (HR 4602 -- H Rept 69) to encourage new residential construction for veterans' housing in rural areas and small cities by raising the direct loan maximum from $10,000 to $12,500, authorizing advance financing commitments and extending the direct loan program to July 25, 1958. (Weekly Report, p. 197)

The Committee rejected a proposal to increase from 4.5 percent to 5 percent the interest rate on veterans' home loans. President Eisenhower had urged the interest rate increase to make more financing available to prospective home builders. The Committee Feb. 19 voted down a bill (HR 4965) to provide for use of 20 percent of National Service Life Insurance funds in the direct veterans' home loan program.

Feb. 19 -- Unanimously reported a bill (HR 52 -- H Rept 136) to provide a 10 percent increase in government compensation for veterans with partial, service-connected disabilities. The cost was estimated at $169,047,000 for the first year. A similar bill was passed by the House in 1956. (1956 Almanac, p. 528)

RELATED DEVELOPMENTS -- Feb. 18 -- Administrator Albert M. Cole of the Housing and Home Finance Agency said: "If the action of the House Veterans' Affairs Committee in rejecting authority to increase the interest rates on veterans' home loans were to prevail, it would, in my judgment, be a very serious blow to the hopes of thousands of veterans who need and want to buy homes this year."

Committee Briefs

BANKING LAWS

Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. Feb. 18 told the Senate Banking and Currency Banking Subcommittee its proposed omnibus banking bill did not provide adequate safeguards against bank mergers that tend to lessen competition. Brownell said existing law was "for practical purposes useless" to cope with a sharply increasing number of bank mergers because it covered stock acquisitions by banks but did not cover cases where a bank buys the assets of another institution. He proposed an amendment to make the antitrust statutes specifically applicable to bank asset acquisitions. Board Chairman H.E. Cook of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. Feb. 14 opposed a provision of the bill under which the FDIC's board would be replaced by a single administrator. (Weekly Report, p. 196)

CIVIL DEFENSE

Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson Feb. 18 said the best available shelter system would not prevent an atomic-hydrogen attack from killing 40-50 percent of the American population. He told the House Government Operations Military Operations Subcommittee that development of the intercontinental ballistic missile would end the usefulness of evacuation because "there won't be time to evacuate." He proposed construction of a nationwide shelter system that would cost "many times" the $7.5 billion estimated by nuclear physicist Dr. Edward Teller in testimony Feb. 14.

EDUCATION AID

Thomas A. Ballantine of the Chamber of Commerce of the U.S. Feb. 20 told the House Education and Labor General Education Subcommittee there was "no critical national shortage in classrooms" and that the Chamber regarded Federal aid for school construction as "unwise and unnecessary." Miss Christine M. Heining, representing the American Assn. of University Women, Feb. 18 said a survey showed overcrowding in schools was a principal cause of teacher shortage and Federal funds must be provided for school construction. (Weekly Report, p. 200)

ATOMIC ENERGY DEVELOPMENT

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission Feb. 19 told the Joint Atomic Energy Committee that at least five, and perhaps six, atomic reactor plants would be delivering electrical power in the United States before the end of 1957. He called 1956 progress in the independent atomic reactor field "most encouraging." Commissioner Thomas E. Murray said current programs were "not adequate" because private industry could not yet take over the job. Professor V. Lawrence Parsegian of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute Feb. 20 said the Nation's atomic program was "seriously hampered by secrecy" despite declassification of large volumes of technical information. Parsegian, a former AEC scientist, said the fault "lies in the concept that information is 'born classified' in reactor technology."

DEMOCRATIC CONFERENCE

The Democratic National Committee, at a Feb. 15-16 conference in San Francisco, Calif., ratified the November, 1956 action of its executive committee in establishing the Democratic Advisory Council to voice party position on major legislative issues. (Weekly Report, p. 63)

The conference gave a voice vote of confidence to Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler, who also will serve as head of the advisory council.

The advisory council adopted a resolution calling on Democratic Members of Congress to support the 1956 party platform by fighting in the current session of Congress for civil rights legislation.

The advisory council also issued statements deploring the Eisenhower Administration's conduct of foreign policy and President Eisenhower's Middle East Doctrine as failing to meet the problems in that area and recommending statehood for Alaska and Hawaii "without undue delay."

Butler announced the appointment of a five-member steering committee for the advisory council: Adlai E. Stevenson, New York Gov. Averell Harriman, Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, California National Committeeman Paul Ziffren and Camille F. Gravel Jr., Louisiana national committeeman.

The steering committee authorized an executive director for the advisory council; Butler named Charles S. Murphy, former President Truman's counsel, to the post. Committees will be set up to study specific issues, such as foreign policy and agriculture, and will "consist of experts in the party and perhaps some non-partisan advisers," Butler said.

In a Feb. 15 speech winding up the national committee meeting, 1956 Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai E. Stevenson hit at what he called the Eisenhower Administration's "dismal record" in foreign affairs. He said U.S. Middle East objectives were "clear and simple" "To open the (Suez) Canal to the traffic of all nations, to establish peace between Israel and her Arab neighbors, and, while we don't propose to dominate anyone ourselves, we don't propose that Russia dominate anyone either."

"I would make it perfectly clear," he continued, "that we propose to pursue these objectives even at the risk of war, and call on all like-minded nations who want peace, national independence and economic progress in the Middle East to join us."

TEXAS ELECTION

State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White (D), 32, Feb. 11 announced his candidacy for the April 2 special election to fill the Senate seat vacated by Gov. Price Daniel and currently held by William A. Blakley (D). Other Democratic candidates include Ralph Yarborough, Rep.-at-Large Martin Dies, State Sen. Searcy Bracewell, Hugh Wilson, Port Arthur Oil Co. laboratory worker, ex-Texas Legislator Curtis Ford, Fort Worth Contractor

Charles W. Hill and James P. Hart, ex-state supreme court justice. The lone Republican candidate is Thad Hutcheson, Houston attorney. (Weekly Report, p. 84)

State Roundup

GEORGIA -- The state senate Feb. 8 adopted a resolution declaring the 14th and 15th Amendments to the United States Constitution null and void. The resolution declared the 39th, 40th and 41st Congress, which adopted the legislation setting up the amendments after the Civil War, excluded representatives of Georgia and 10 other southern states and were illegally constituted. The 14th Amendment declares no state shall deprive any person of life, liberty or property except by due process of law; the 15th declares no state shall deprive any person of the right to vote because of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

INDIANA -- Thomas Mahaffey Jr., Indianapolis, Feb. 9 said he would resign as Indiana Republican Committee treasurer because the state administration "is not on the Eisenhower team." Also announcing resignations from the committee were Mrs. Von Snyder, Indianapolis, vice chairman, and Alvin C. Cast, chairman. Cast, Mrs. Snyder and Mahaffey were supporters of ex-Gov. George N. Craig (R 1953-57), state Republican rival of Gov. Harold W. Handley (R) and Sen. William E. Jenner (R).

IOWA -- The House Administration Elections Subcommittee Feb. 8 denied Steven Carter (D) additional time to prepare his contest of the election of Rep. Karl M. LeCompte (R), 4th District. Carter, defeated by 1,621 votes, had charged election law violations and irregularities in ballot counting.

MICHIGAN -- Michigan Republicans Feb. 9 elected Stockbridge Attorney Lawrence B. Lindemer, 35, state GOP chairman, succeeding John Feikens. Lindemer, whose election was interpreted as a victory for Eisenhower Republicans, defeated Verny J. Reynolds, retired Allegan auto dealer by an 814-574 roll-call vote. The GOP convention, in a formal statement of policy, endorsed the "modern Republicanism" of President Eisenhower.

NEW YORK -- Assemblyman John H. Farrell (D-Lib.), 37, Feb. 14 was elected to the state senate in a special election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Francis J. Mahoney. Farrell defeated Richard Marshall (R), supported by Americans for Democratic Action, by a vote of 7,768 to 4,569.

New York County Republican Chairman Thomas J. Curran Feb. 16 listed four persons as possible candidates for the 1957 GOP nomination for mayor who would promise "nonpartisan government:" Nelson A. Rockefeller, District Attorney Frank S. Hogan (D), James A. Lundy, GOP Borough President of Queens, and Percy Magnus, president of the Citizens Traffic Safety Board.

Special Report

DEMOCRATIC REPRESENTATIVES VOICE DISCONTENT WITH LEADERS

Eighty Democratic Representatives are pressing for a "liberal" legislative program announced Jan. 8 that could trigger a "Young Turk" revolt against the House Democratic leadership. Although leaders of the "liberal" bloc discount this possibility, the group has determined backing for its program. The loose-knit coalition of northern and western Democratic Representatives has not yet formally organized within the party, and its members say they may not do so.

Rep. Eugene J. McCarthy (D Minn.), a prime mover in formulating the program, minimizes any differences that may exist between the 80 Democrats and the House Democratic leadership of Speaker Sam Rayburn (Texas), Majority Leader John W. McCormack (Mass.) and Whip Carl Albert (Okla.). But there is some open and much private criticism of this leadership. Chairman Emanuel Celler (D N.Y.) of the House Judiciary Committee, a self-styled "Young Turk at 68" and a veteran of 34 years in the House, viewed the situation this way for Congressional Quarterly:

"There is no leadership now in the House. We have no caucuses, no program. We are no longer going to take it lying down. There is a grassroots insurgent movement among Democratic liberals in the House. It should not be dismissed, for it is a nucleus from which we can grow. I think that if this group backing the liberal program should exercise some leadership it would become very formidable."

But few of the 80 "liberals" desire an all-out battle with Rayburn over who is to run the House Democrats. Instead they hope he will notice their complaints and embrace their legislative program. They admit that in any test of strength between themselves and the leadership, they would find themselves on the outside looking in, and with little chance of getting any of their legislation -- whether designed for the Nation or for their district -- to the House floor.

Strengthen the Party

Behind the movement is the belief that a militant, liberal legislative program is necessary to strengthen the party and assure Democratic election victories in 1958 and 1960. Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (D N.J.), pointing to Democratic losses in the East in 1956, said that "unless the party has liberal policies, it is going to continue to deteriorate in the Northeast."

Other members of the movement agree. Reps. Lee Metcalf (D Mont.), Stewart L. Udall (D Ariz.) and George S. McGovern (D S.D.) say Democrats made impressive gains west of the Mississippi River by sharply defining differences between Republicans and Democrats on farm and resource issues. They want a Democratic legislative program that will be different from the Eisenhower Administration's program and will give them issues for ensuing campaigns.

Most of the prime movers in the "liberal" movement are "have-not" Democrats -- although in the House for several terms, they lack the seniority to give them a committee or subcommittee chairmanship, thus are without a role in shaping or advising on legislation. Few are briefed, advised or consulted on legislation or party policies before a bill comes to the floor, they complain.

The legislative program being pushed by the "liberal" Democrats resulted from a post-election conference between McCarthy and Metcalf. They wanted a program they felt would appeal to Democratic Representatives from the North and West. After discussing it with Thompson, they revised it and published it Jan. 8, two days before President Eisenhower's State of the Union Message, with 28 signers. (Weekly Report, p. 59)

On Jan. 30, when there were 80 signers to the program, Thompson explained it to the House. He said the program "goes beyond the Administration's recommendations" on legislation regarding the "treatment and compensation of Government employees, revision of the tax laws, tax relief for small business, revision of the labor relations laws, housing, an improved unemployment program, assistance to industry in depressed areas and the revision of farm legislation."

Thompson said the program "calls for a repudiation of the Administration's partnership approach to the development of natural resources and...a return to the historic resources development partnership, including farm cooperatives, public power districts, private enterprise and the Federal Government." The program also would require the Administration to be more accountable to Congress for its actions, Thompson added.

McCarthy views this program as a "constructive approach" to legislation. He said he felt the House Democratic leadership sympathized with most, if not all, of it. The leadership, he continued, has not been "openly critical" of it. This, a spokesman for the leaders told CQ, is because the leaders have adopted a "wait and see" attitude.

Priority List

Their bloc, said McCarthy, will give priority to federal aid for school construction, civil rights, United States membership in the Organization for Trade Cooperation and liberalization of the immigration laws. Next, he continued, the bloc will battle for Taft-Hartley revision, minimum wage extension, Alaska-Hawaii statehood, tax relief for small businessmen, tax law revision to close "loopholes," farm and Federal atomic energy legislation.

The bloc then will press for more public housing, natural resources legislation, medical aid, government employment and monopoly curbs. The program signers propose to provide "effective opposition" to some Administration foreign policy proposals; they intend to fight against any new legislative attempts to exempt independent natural gas producers from Federal regulation.

But although they agree on a general and wide legislative program, there is some disagreement among the 80 on specific proposals. For instance, although they back the school aid bill introduced by Rep. Augustine Kelly (D Pa.) and oppose the Administration's plan, they are divided over the proposed anti-segregation amendment offered in 1956 by Rep. Adam C. Powell Jr. (D N.Y.). Powell's amendment, which he has said he will introduce again this year, would deny Federal school aid funds to any district operating segregated schools.

Organization

The 80-program signers are not formally organized, but McCarthy generally is regarded as their chief spokesman. Apparently because it might be construed as a direct challenge to Rayburn's leadership, McCarthy opposes a formal organization. Others, however, such as Rep. James Roosevelt (D Calif.) say they think some sort of organization is necessary to implement the "liberal" program. The basis for an informal organization may arise Feb. 26 when about 50 Democratic Representatives currently in their first or second terms are scheduled to join in an informal grouping. About half of these Representatives are backing the "liberal" program; McGovern, a freshman, says he anticipates the program will be discussed thoroughly by this group. Should enough of them agree to back most of the program, a ready-made -- but still informal -- nucleus of an organization could arise.

Still, communication among the 80 signers of the program is effective even without a formal organization. For instance, 11 of them are members of the Education and Labor Committee and constitute a majority of the 17-member Committee. All strongly back the Kelley aid to education bill and are able to advise others of their bloc on the bill's progress.

Additional Backing, Strategy

The "liberals" say they will pick up additional backing for some of their legislative proposals from Democrats who are sympathetic to part, though not all, of the "liberal" program. Thus on a specific legislative issue before the House, they say they will have the backing of about 120 of the 233 Democratic Representatives. In addition, they say they can count on the support of some Republicans for certain proposals.

Legislation covering each provision in the "liberal" program will be introduced. When a member of the group finds he cannot budge a "liberal" measure from committee, he will request help from other members. The group then would begin a discharge petition circulating which, when signed by 218 Representatives, discharges a committee from considering the legislation. Or they will attempt other action to move the legislation, depending on the circumstances. Even when bloc members feel they are outnumbered and have little chance to push their legislation, they nevertheless intend to press for their views.

The "liberal" program largely is the work of McCarthy, a 40-year-old former special science professor who first came to Congress from St. Paul, Minn., in 1948. Others particularly active in welding and securing backing for the program were Metcalf, 46, a Helena attorney in his third term, and Thompson, 38, a Trenton attorney in his second term.

The signers represent a cross-section of the House Democratic membership outside the South. Southerners were not asked to sign because of the civil rights provisions in the program. Carl D. Perkins of Eastern Kentucky is the only signer from a border state. Because of the foreign trade provisions in the program, several Representatives from New England and West Virginia declined to sign. Edward P. Boland (D Mass.) is the only signer from the home state of Majority Leader McCormack; no Democrat signed from Texas or Oklahoma, home states of Speaker Rayburn and Democratic Whip Albert.

Seniority, Committee Chairmen

The signers range in seniority from Celler, who has 34 years' service, to 11 freshmen. Four signers are committee chairmen: Celler of Judiciary; William L. Dawson (D Ill.) of Government Operations; Clair Engle (D Calif.) of Interior and Insular Affairs and Thomas S. Gordon (D Ill.) of Foreign Affairs. Another signer, Melvin Price (D Ill.), is the new Chairman of the House Democratic Caucus Committee.

The signers represent a majority of the Democrats on the Committees of Banking and Currency, Education and Labor and Interior and Insular Affairs. They have sizeable representation on Appropriations, Armed Services, Foreign Affairs, Government Operations, House Administration, Commerce, Judiciary, Merchant Marine, Post Office and Civil Service and Ways and Means. They are represented on the potent House Rules Committee only by Rep. Ray J. Madden (D Ind.); they have only scattered representation on Agriculture, Public Works, Un-American Activities and Veterans' Affairs.

Party Unity

The signers have relatively high CQ Party Unity scores, which indicate the percentage of the time a Member votes with his party majority on issues opposed by a majority of the other party. (1956 Almanac, p. 24)

In the 84th Congress 15 had Party Unity scores of 90-100 percent: John E. Moss (Calif.), Cecil R. King (Calif.), Barratt O'Hara (Ill.), Madden, Louis C. Rabaut (Mich.), John Lesinski Jr. (Mich.), Coya Knutson (Minn.), Frank M. Karsten (Mo.), Leonor Kretzer Sullivan (Mo.), Metcalf, Peter W. Rodino Jr. (N.J.), Hugh J. Addonizio (N.J.), Lester R. Johnson (Wis.), Thomas J. O'Brien (Ill.) and Price.

Twenty-seven had Party Unity scores of 80-89 percent: Udall, B. F. Sisk (Calif.), Roosevelt, Chet Holifield (Calif.), Clyde Doyle (Calif.), Wayne N. Aspinall (Colo.), Gracie Pfof (Idaho), John C. Kluczynski (Ill.), Charles A. Boyle (Ill.), Winfield K. Denton (Ind.), John D. Dingell (Mich.), Martha W. Griffiths (Mich.), Thaddeus M. Machrowicz (Mich.), McCarthy, John A. Blatnik (Minn.), Roy W. Wier (Minn.), Thompson, Abraham J. Multer (N.Y.), John J. Rooney (N.Y.), Isidore Dollinger (N.Y.), Charles A. Vanik (Ohio), Edith F. Green (Ore.), James A. Byrne (Pa.), Earl Chudoff (Pa.), George M. Rhodes (Pa.), Don Magnuson (Wash.) and Henry S. Reuss (Wis.).

Eleven had Party Unity scores of 70-79 percent: Byron G. Rogers (Colo.), George P. Miller (Calif.), Carl D. Perkins (Ky.), Lester Holtzman (N.Y.), Eugene J. Keogh (N.Y.), Celler, Herbert Zelenko (N.Y.), Thomas L. Ashley (Ohio), William A. Barrett (Pa.), Elmer J. Holland (Pa.) and Engle.

Sixteen had Party Unity scores of 69 percent or less, some due to illness in the last Congress: John F. Shelley (Calif.), Dawson, James B. Bowler (Ill.), Gordon, Sidney R. Yates (Ill.), Edward P. Boland (Mass.), Charles C. Diggs Jr. (Mich.), George H. Christopher (Mo.), A. S. J. Carnahan (Mo.), Victor L. Anfuso (N.Y.), Edna F. Kelly (N.Y.), James C. Healey (N.Y.), Leo W. O'Brien (N.Y.), Wayne L. Hayes (Ohio), William J. Green Jr. (Pa.) and Herman P. Eberhart (Pa.).

Eleven of the signers are freshmen: D. S. Saund (Calif.), John J. McFall (Calif.), J. Floyd Breeding (Kan.), Leroy H. Anderson (Mont.), Alfred E. Santangelo (N.Y.), Leonard Farbstein (N.Y.), Ludwig Teller (N.Y.), Al Ullman (Ore.), Charles L. Porter (Ore.), Kathryn E. Granahan (Pa.) and McGovern.

1956 ELECTION DONATIONS OF $5,000 OR MORE TOTAL $3.8 MILLION . . .

The Senate Rules and Administration Privileges and Elections Subcommittee identified $3,809,689 contributed to Republicans, Democrats and other political parties and organizations in amounts of $5,000 or more. Of this total, the Subcommittee reported, $2,894,309 went to the Republicans; $860,380 to the Democrats; and $55,000 to other parties and organizations. The Subcommittee obtained its information from questionnaires filed by political committees and individuals with the Clerk of the House and with the Subcommittee.

In some instances, amounts derived from the questionnaires filed by political committees differ from the amounts filed by individuals because individuals reported all contributions of $100 or more while committees were requested to list only contributors who donated $500 or more. And some persons reported contributions to committees that were not among those requested to file questionnaires with the Subcommittee. For these reasons, the following list of contributors of $5,000 or more may not agree with the individual master list of all contributors that follows this section.

The following alphabetical list combines the totals contributed by husband and wife and gives as the address of the contributor, in most cases, the city in which the contributor's office is located:

INDIVIDUALS CONTRIBUTE $11 MILLION IN AMOUNTS OF $500 OR MORE

The Senate Rules and Administration Privileges and Elections Subcommittee reported a total of $11,037,514 was contributed by individuals to political parties and organizations in 1956 (through Nov. 30) in amounts of $500 or more. Of the total, the Subcommittee reported $8,064,907 went to the Republicans; $2,820,655 to the Democrats; and $151,952 to miscellaneous parties and groups.

Following is an alphabetical list, by states, of persons contributing $500 or more to Democrats, Republicans and other organizations. A number in parentheses following a contribution indicates the money went to a national organization identified in the box at the right. A contribution not followed by a key number was made to a local or state, rather than a national, political organization. The names on the Subcommittee's list:

Individual Contributions More than $11 million of the conservatively estimated $33 million that was spent on the 1956 Federal election campaign was donated by persons who gave in amounts of $500 or more. Of the $11 million, a Senate subcommittee reported, slightly more than $8 million went to the Republicans, $2.8 million to the Democrats and about $150,000 to miscellaneous parties and groups. A 35-page list of contributors and the amounts they donated, as reported by the Senate subcommittee, begins on Page 229. It's broken down, state-by-state and under each party.

$5,000 Contributors

About one-tenth of the $33 million in 1956 campaign expenditures a Senate subcommittee was able to track down came from persons who contributed in amounts of $5,000 or more. The subcommittee's report said more than $3.8 million came from persons who gave $5,000 or more to Republican, Democratic or other political organizations. Of this amount, $2.9 million went to the Republicans, $860,000 to the Democrats and $55,000 to other groups. (Page 226)

Two-Party Contributors

Republican and Democratic party organizations each received about $188,000 from persons a Senate subcommittee found had donated $500 or more to both parties. A total of $377,000 of these contributions was identified. The subcommittee stressed that by listing the persons found to have given funds to candidates or committees of both parties, it did "not wish to imply any impropriety." (Page 237)

Deficiency Appropriation

The Senate, acting on President Eisenhower's initial appropriation measure in 1957, approved a $351 million deficiency appropriation bill that was $31 million less than the President had requested, but $16 million more than the House had voted. The Senate restored a $30 million government subsidy program for strategic minerals killed by the House. It granted increases in funds for drought relief measures, and approved the House grant of $275 million for public assistance to the states. (Page 219)

Roll-Call Votes

Senate: Amendments to the deficiency appropriation bill, p. 220.

Democratic Rumblings

Rumblings of discontent with policies of the leadership are rising from a group of 80 northern and western House Democrats, although one of the group's leaders minimizes any differences. Nevertheless, one of the 80 signers of a proposed "liberal" legislative program flatly says: "There is no leadership now in the House. We have no caucuses, no program." Meanwhile, members of the Democratic National Committee met in San Francisco where they approved executive committee action that previously set up a Democratic Advisory Council and called upon the party's Congressional leaders to support the 1956 party platform. (Pages 223, 224)

Middle East

Senate debate on the Middle East Doctrine was slow in starting, overshadowed by rising tensions over Israeli refusal to withdraw troops from Egypt and talk of UN sanctions against her. Majority Leader Johnson criticized Senators who failed to speak, said they apparently were waiting for bigger audiences. Senators Morse and Ervin opposed the doctrine, but most urged bipartisan support. The seriousness of the Mideast situation was emphasized when President Eisenhower, in a nationwide address, said the UN's fate hinged on Israeli compliance. (Page 219)

Treasury-Post Office Funds

The first of the regular money bills for fiscal 1958, the Treasury-Post Office appropriation, was passed by the House without amendment. The bill carried a total appropriation of almost $3.9 billion, nearly $4 million under President Eisenhower's request. As sent to the Senate, the bill would allot the Treasury $691.5 million, the Post Office Department $3.2 billion and the Tax Court $1.5 million. (Page 219)
